Free for personal use. View your iOS device or Mac as a web camera or network camera. No additional software required. Let's get started with the Zenbo overview. The Zenbo is a motion-activated home security camera with night vision and a built-in speaker. You can use your iOS device as a remote control to check in on your home from anywhere in the world. It doesn't require a home internet connection, but it does need to be plugged into an electrical outlet. It also features two-way audio, night vision, and motion detection. It has a built-in 1.3-megapixel camera and a speaker for audio. Setup is pretty straightforward. You can plug it directly into your home Wi-Fi router or access it remotely via the Zenbo app on your iOS device. Read our full review of the Zenbo here. Sonoff Smart Switch Plus (for Amazon Alexa) Device (ZS077WHP9) This Sonoff-compatible, Alexa-enabled Wi-Fi switch includes five built-in sensors that let you turn things on and off and set temperature-based schedules. It can also be controlled by voice. It is an ideal solution for smart home enthusiasts who want to control multiple connected appliances via a single voice-controlled interface. It's easy to install and set up. You can connect it to your home network and control it using your voice, or you can control it via the Sonoff iOS or Android app (see our review of the Sonoff app). The app includes a feature called IFTTT (If This Then That) that lets you set it up to perform a task when a certain condition is met, like turning the lights on when it's dusk outside. Alexa is the main selling point of the product, but it has a remote control function you can use in combination with the app. Whether you're replacing your current video surveillance system or you need an additional camera for safety, the HD IP Camera is one of the best options. It has 3D sound, day/night vision, weatherproofing and motion detection. Our pick is the Netgear Arlo Pro 2, which is easy to install and has a variety of mounting options. It even comes with free lifetime cloud storage. Sengled Hanging Garden Dome Camera 2-pack (3D040A02) These 3D HD camera is supported by Amazon Alexa and control via smartphone. The bottonless camera can be controlled easily. 82157476af
